Massachusetts Normal Art School.

The Legislature, by an Act passed May 16, 1870, made instruction in drawing obligatory in the public day schools, and required cities and towns containing more than ten thousand inhabitants to make provisions for free instruction in industrial drawing to persons over fifteen years of age. It was soon found that it was impossible to realize satisfactorily the benefits intended by the Act, for want of competent teachers. A Resolve was therefore passed by the Legislature in 1873 providing for the establishment and maintenance of a State Normal Art School.

DESIGN OF THE SCHOOL.

The purpose of the school is the training of teachers and supervisors of industrial art. To this end it provides advanced courses in drawing, painting, modelling, instrumental drawing, and their application to industry. It enables pupils to acquire high skill in technical drawing and also provides for industrial art culture.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION AND CLASSES.

The school offers three courses of training for teachers of drawing.

First. — A course for teachers and supervisors of drawing in the several grades of the public schools.

Second. — A course of training in drawing, painting, modelling and industrial design.

Third. — A course in mechanical and architectural drawing, and architectural drawing and design.

CLASSES.

The various classes are designated as follows: class A, class B, class C, class D, and the public school class.

The work of class A is devoted to elementary drawing; of class B, to drawing, painting and design; of class C, to the constructive arts and design. In connection with the theoretical instruction given in class C, provision is made for lessons in shop work, for the benefit of students who intend teaching in industrial and technical schools where a knowledge of the use of tools is required. The work of class D is devoted to modelling and design.

The work of the public school class is devoted to methods of teaching and supervising drawing, with special reference to the several grades of the public schools. Students entering this class must pass an examination in the following subjects: English grammar and composition, history of the United States, geography, plane geometry, elementary botany, elementary physiology.

SUBJECTS OR WORK TAUGHT IN THE THREE COURSES, AND AMOUNT OF TIME ALLOTTED TO EACH COURSE.

The first course embraces the work of classes A and B, followed by a year in the public school class. Three years will be requird for completion of this course.

The second course embraces the work of classes A, B and D, in the order named, including normal instruction from the various teachers of these classes. Four years will be required for the completion of this course.

The third course embraces the work of classes A and C, including normal instruction from the various teachers of these classes. Three years will be required for completion of this course.

Any student completing the work of classes A and B may choose between the public school class and the course in mechanical and architectural drawing and design.

SPECIAL LECTURES.

A course of lectures is given each year on the historic schools of painting. Every other year a course of lectures on artistic anatomy is given, and every two years, alternating with the latter, a course on perspective.

These lectures are open to the students of all advanced classes.

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission must be over sixteen years of age; must bring a certificate of moral character from some well-known person in the town where they reside; and must present a diploma (high-school) or its equivalent.

Applicants for admission to class A must also pass the examinations of the Normal Art School at the beginning of each school year. The subjects in which they will be examined are as follows: —

1. Model Drawing (outline).
2. Model Drawing (shaded).
3. Historic Ornament (outline from cast).

Tuition is free to students residing within the State and intending to teach drawing in the public schools, but five dollars per term will be charged for incidentals. Tuition for students from without the State is fifty dollars per term, which includes the incidental fee.

Applicants who do not wish to pass through class A in this school may enter class B or C or D, by proving their fitness to undertake the work of the class they wish to enter. They will be regarded as special students and must pay a fee of fifty dollars per term, which entitles them to receive class instruction in such subjects as are taught in those courses.

All fees are paid in advance to the curator.

DIPLOMAS.

The school awards diplomas to graduates of the several courses, certifying to their ability to teach those branches taught in the course they have pursued.

EXAMINATIONS.

Examinations are given in the various subjects studied in the classes. Students failing to pass in any subject may apply the next year, on condition that they again perform all the regular class work required in that study.

POST GRADUATE WORK.

Graduated students may continue their studies for one year without payment of fees.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Students will not receive any official statement of their fitness to teach unless they are graduates.

RECOMMENDATION FOR APPOINTMENT.

Those who may be in need of teachers of drawing for the public schools, or teachers of drawing, painting or modelling, or for teachers of instrumental drawing, are requested to apply directly to the principal. Such applications will be brought to the attention of students who are prepared to do the required work.

REGULATIONS OF THE SCHOOL.

The students must provide their own material.

Students will remember that the school, its properties and its reputation, are in their care and possession.

The doors will open each school day at 8.30 A.M., and be closed at 9 A.M.; all students entering after that time must report their cause of tardiness to the curator, for submission to the principal. Students will not be allowed to leave the school before class hours are over, except by permission of the teacher in charge, and the names of students so leaving, with the reasons therefor, must be entered in the curator's book of exceptions.

Students who are absent from the school for one day or more must bring a letter addressed to the principal from their parents or guardian accounting for such absence.

All private property belonging to students must be kept in their lockers; the school will not be responsible for any implements or materials left in the class rooms.

All damage to the property of the school must be paid for by those who cause it.

Students can only visit the office of the curator for books and information or any other purpose, between the hours of 8.30 A.M. and 9 A.M. and from 12 to 12.30 P.M.

The visits of friends to students are not permitted during class hours, except in cases of sickness or other emergencies admitting of no delay.

Students must not, under any circumstances, remain in the class rooms during the recess hour between 12 and 12.30 P.M., nor leave their class rooms to visit other class rooms during school hours.

Every student will be provided with a locker, in which to keep boards and drawing materials. On receiving the key the student must deposit one dollar, which will be refunded when the key is returned. Keys lost or broken by students must be replaced by them.

The only works allowed to be executed in the school are those required by the instructors to illustrate their lectures or lessons and those on the list of certificate works.

Each instructor will require a certain amount of work to be done by the students between lectures. This must be regarded as a part of the regular school work.

Any text-book required for use or reference will be indicated by the instructor.

Students may remain in any class for two years, but having failed to complete the required work within that time, will be allowed to complete this course of study only as special students.

Promotions from one class to another are made at the beginning of the term only, in October or February.

Not less than one work nor more than two works from the set belonging to each student will be retained as the property of the school.
